At the end of an exciting half term, it was very fitting to celebrate with another homework celebration party this morning. In addition to the breakfast party, each class spent time this week sharing and enjoying the wonderful work produced at home.

Next half term is shaping up to be very busy with lots already booked in the diary: class assemblies, sporting events, maths challenge days, fabulous arts day and much more! However, the highlight for me (if selected) is the staff versus children netball match that is being planned!

Finally, on behalf of the school community, I would like to send all our best wishes to Mrs Silvester who starts her maternity leave today. We are so excited for her and her family and looking forward to welcoming baby Silvester. Amidst the excitement, there is also a tinge of sadness as we are going to miss Mrs Silvester during her maternity leave as she has proved to be an inspirational teacher and maths leader who staff and children think so highly of.

We hope you and your children have a restful half term and we will see you back at school on Monday 25th February.

Pick up request

Please can we politely remind you all to turn off your engines whilst waiting to collect your children to cut down on pollution around the school and on the footpaths.
Please also help us to keep our children safe by parking considerably near our school. Please do not block driveways, park on the pavement or near the zebra crossing. Thank you for your co-operation.

World Book Day – Thursday 7th March

We will be celebrating World Book Day by inviting the children to come in to school dressed as a character from a book they have read. Lots of ideas can be found online and we hope it will be an exciting way to celebrate reading within school. If you are struggling for ideas then please speak to your child's teacher as they will be able to give you some suggestions.

We are running our Extreme Reading Competition again this year! The idea behind it is that the children, or a group of children, get a photograph taken of themselves reading in an extreme, but safe, place. Photographs can be left at reception or emailed to office@brookwood.surrey.sch.uk

This has been really popular over the last few years, with children submitting pictures of them reading whilst playing football, hanging from trees or at the Natural History Museum. Anything is possible and with half term on our doorstep this is the perfect opportunity to let our imaginations run wild!
